

The United States government donated land in Washington D.C. to erect the United States Holocaust Museum, but the funds to build it had to come from private donations. These generous and caring individuals have accepted an invitation to become charter supporters by sending in their donations, both large and small, so that this memorial to those who died in that terrible happening called the Holocaust, both Jews and non-Jews, will never be forgotten.

U.S Holocaust Memorial Museum will not exchange with political offers.
